Figures Disputed

Only 49,000 Men "Missing"
And Not 390,000 as Claimed
Mitchell States in Commons

OTTAWA, May 3.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell said last night in the Commons that the number of men liable for compulsory military service, but not accounted for was 49,000 not 390,000 as calculated Monday by J. G. Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre).

Mr. Mitchell read the number of men not accounted for in the various military districts, ranging from 35 in the Charlottetown, P.E.I. district to 18,223 in the Montreal district, and totaling 49,000.

"After all the resources and all the staff we have at our command have been used that is the picture arrived at," said the minister.

CALCULATED 390,000

Mr. Diefenbaker had calculated that 390,000 men were "missing" after having failed to report for medical examinations under national resources mobilization act regulations.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that this figure actually was low as 212,681 men had failed to report after being examined and then being called to actual duty.

The minister said Mr. Diefenbaker had failed to read the whole statement. Of the 212,681 there were industrial workers totaling 117,732, men who had enlisted on receipt of orders and then given statutory exemptions.

Mr. Diefenbaker interpreted that he had mentioned several of the classifications stated by the minister.

Mr. Mitchell said that the 49,000 unaccounted for, may many have joined the United States army.

WORST REFLECTION

Mr. Mitchell said Mr. Diefenbaker had put the worst possible reflection on the figures of men who failed to respond to call-up notices and he did not think it is the best interests of Canada that a story should be given out that 390,000 men were unaccounted for.

"I can't think he believes it himself," said the minister.

Mr. Diefenbaker could have checked his figures with the Labor department before making his statement in the house.

In reply, Mr. Diefenbaker read figures provided in house returns and outlined the basis of his calculation that 390,000 had failed to report for medical examinations. The minister now claimed only 49,000 men were "missing."

The minister had claimed there was a perfect breakdown of the manpower of the Dominion, and there should be an easy explanation of where the men unaccounted for were.

OTTAWA, May 3.—(CP)—Capt. Bruce Opposes
Church Group
In Health Plan

OTTAWA, May 3.—(CP)—Dr. H. A. Bruce (P.C.—Toronto, Parkdale), in a criticism of Christian Science practices, objected yesterday at a meeting of the Commons social security committee to public funds being made available to Christian Science practitioners under the government-proposed health insurance plan.

Dr. Bruce also threatened to withdraw from the committee if the suggestion of the chairman, Hon. Cyrus Macmillan (L.—Queens), that his remarks should be made in camera was enforced.

PERMIT STATEMENT
After a 45-minute discussion, Dr. Bruce was permitted to make a 10-minute statement. He said the Christian Science viewpoint had been presented by J. W. Fullen of Toronto at an open meeting and had received "considerable publicity" and that the reply also should be made in an open meeting.

In support of his argument for an open hearing, Dr. Bruce said Mr. Fullen's claim that there had not been a prosecution in Canada in 25 years after a follower of the Christian Science faith was "untrue." Dr. Bruce cited the case of a prosecution in Manitoba in 1925.

In his formal reply to Mr. Fullen's statement, Dr. Bruce said the matter was not one of religion because priests of all faiths visited their people when they were ill and prayed with them. Christian Science did not rely on prayer but on a repetition of a formula introduced by its founder, Mary Baker Eddy.

Loans Planned
For Fishermen,
Isley Reveals

OTTAWA, May 3.—(CP)—Finance Minister Isley said yesterday in the Commons that an amendment to the Bank Act was proposed making it possible for a bank to give loans to any fisherman on the security of fishing vessels, fishing equipment and supplies or the catch itself.

To make provisions for the benefit of fishermen effective, it was anticipated a measure similar to the Farms Improvement Loans Act to assist farmers would be necessary. This measure would enable the government to give a limited guarantee in respect of loans made by chartered banks to fishermen.

"It will probably not be possible to introduce this legislation at the current session of parliament," said the minister.

PROVIDE WORK FOR ALL
Through sound administration it was to be hoped that employment would be provided for all after the war.

Capt. Chambers spoke after Labor Minister Mitchell said 48,000 men called for compulsory military training were unaccounted for. The minister was replying to J. G. Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre) who said 390,000 men were unaccounted for.

"The men overseas are of the opinion that there are men who don't want to fight and men who don't want to fight," said Capt. Chambers. "But those who do want to fight should not be let down if it is simply a question of manpower."

He said it was regrettable the Quebec legislature had adopted a motion recently opposing the sending of conscripts overseas.

"It is regrettable that such a thing occurred when the French-Canadians are fighting so gallantly in the field," he said.

The motion was not explained or understood overseas and would lead to "hard feelings" toward the French-speaking Canadians.

King's Birthday
OTTAWA, May 3.—(CP)—State Secretary McLarty announced yesterday a proclamation is being issued fixing Thursday, June 8, for the celebration of the king's birthday in Canada, although the Canadians prevent proclamation of a public holiday. King George was born Dec. 14, 1893, but his birthday is celebrated in June.

Bank Profits
Not Excessive
House Is Told

OTTAWA, May 3.—Finance Minister Isley said yesterday in the Commons that his considered judgment was that Canadian banks have not made unduly large profits and their shareholders have been content with earnings which are "really modest" compared with those of other businesses.

Speaking on the bill amending the Bank Act, the minister said he had decided to break a long-established tradition of Canadian banking and disclose to the House "the essential facts" in regard to the banking system as a whole.

OPERATION EARNINGS
The average annual current operating earnings for the 10 Canadian banks quoted for a 15-year period (1929-43) were $138,700,000 or 4.02 per cent of total assets. In the year 1943 they were $114,900,000, or 3.28 per cent.

Current operating expenses, not including losses, averaged $112,300,000 for the 15-year period, which was 3.26 per cent of total assets. In 1943 they were $114,900,000, or 3.28 per cent.

"When we compare this figure of current operating earnings of only 4.02 per cent of total assets with operating expenses of 3.26 per cent, we have to conclude that there must be something wrong with this fountain pen theory and that the operating margin on which banks have to work is a fairly thin one," said Mr. Isley.

Dividends paid to shareholders averaged 4.6 per cent of total shareholders' equity over the last 15 years. In 1943, the bank dividends averaged 3.15 per cent.

ON COSTS OF BANKING
OTTAWA, May 3.—(CP)—Finance Minister Isley said yesterday in the Commons there had been much "propaganda" about money being created by four main pen notations, but experience in Alberta where a Social Credit government is in power, had indicated the costs of operating a money deposit business.

Speaking on the bill amending the Bank Act, Mr. Isley said "some people have to believe that it costs banks little or nothing to carry on their operations, that it is a very simple business concerned almost entirely with holding a fountain pen upside down and letting the ink run, and that of course the banks must be making enormous profits."

FACTS TO CONTRARY
Mr. Isley said the facts were to the contrary, "and some of the least of their general significance should, I would have thought, been familiar to certain honorable members who belong to the Social Credit party."

"They at least should be familiar with the public accounts of the Province of Alberta which show, if I read them correctly, that the Alberta treasury branches, which operate certain deposit accounts had an excess of expenditures over revenue of roughly $300,000 on their operations during the fiscal year 1942-43, and even if we exclude the consumers' bonus which was paid, a loss of $424,000. That would appear to indicate that the cost to the Alberta government of operating these accounts was something over 8.3 per cent. This seems to throw some light on the cost of operating a deposit business."

SO YOU'RE GOING TO PAINT!
FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES:-

Outside Painting

Be sure the surface is dry; let the sun or wind dry it out after a rain. Remove dirt from corners, putty up any cracks and holes. Don't lay the paint on too thickly—you'll get a better job if you brush it on sparingly. If you apply more than one coat, let the first coat dry thoroughly before putting on the second one.

Inside Painting

Make certain your surface is clean. Remove any film of grease or dirt from walls or furniture, especially in the kitchen, for instance. It's a good plan to wash surfaces with soap and water before painting; if you do this, be sure to let it dry first. Smooth your wall surface by plastering holes and cracks, and sandpaper rough places in furniture, before applying your paint.

Most Important of All:-

Let the whole family have a say in settling on your colour scheme. Ask your Sherwin-Williams Dealer to lend or show you his beautiful Paint & Colour Style Guide—it's full of good ideas on decoration and painting.

What to Do With Germany

By LOUIS NIZER

Whole Educational System Must be Scrapped; International University Proposed to Settle Details of Reform in Teaching; Training in Democratic Self-Rule.

Chapter XV.

These and similar activities would satisfy the pledge of the Atlantic Charter "to further the enjoyment by all States, great or small, victor or vanquished, of access on equal terms to the trade and to the raw materials of the world which are needed for their economic prosperity."

Germany will be restored to economic health and standards. She will learn from this living course in political economy that war devours wealth more quickly than it supplies food. Improvements in the common denominator of victory and defeat. Perhaps this will be some encouragement toward a peaceful form of mind. Certainly it will aid world economy. But the German obsession with world domination is not to be disposed of so easily. Economic justice is essential to the plan for reconstruction. But it is not the education itself. The effort in this direction is as ambitious as the size of the problem requires. It is designed to condition Germany for a rightful place in a peaceful society.

This phase of the program provides for the entire educational system of Germany to be scrapped, just as its arms factories must be. The mental products it has produced have been no less dangerous to mankind than the other varieties of explosives from its munitions plants.

Second, that the task of obliterated the false doctrine of German nationalism is not to be entrusted solely to the Germans. They have been immersed in vicious credos

At Critical Period

Food Position in Reich

Becoming More Difficult

By EDWIN SHANKE

STOCKHOLM, May 3.—(AP)—The Nazis no longer make an effort to hide their extreme difficulties in keeping 80,000,000 mouths fed at the most critical period of the war.

Germany, in this invasion year, has been out on a bad agricultural position by the loss of conquered lands in the East and the necessity of dipping deeply into food reserves due to harvest deficiencies and air raid damage to stored supplies.

The newspaper Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, which is said to be thrown into the balance.

FAT "GREATEST WORRY"

Most fat needs are the "greatest worry."

To fill provisioning gaps, agricultural officials are seeking thousands of so-called agricultural leaders, jobless because of the Russian advance, to Russia, Italy and Balkan farms.

The sources are being exploited in the demonstrated by the current presence of a butchering of each kilo of bones collected for the state.

To increase acreage in less profitable vegetable oils, the farmers are permitted the same price as for root crops, together with special table oils and extra feed for root crops.

Mr. Bracken said that the Dominion government must extend the terms of the Credit policy so there will be no great variation in the total of bank deposits which provide 90 per cent of the people's purchasing power.

Mr. Bracken said much of the money which found its way to the people originated as loans made by the government to the banks, and some of credit varied a great deal, not only as a result of the fluctuations of business, but also variations in the stock markets.

He said that the government had contracted and expanded the operations of the bank and the quoted prices of the securities this condition made the need of credit control "obvious," he said.

The ideal should be to preserve the widest freedom of opportunity for the individual to choose his own line of endeavor.

He said that a new and dynamic force must be introduced into the national development to chronicle and correlate the efforts of its individual citizens. We know in the disorder which we are now in the 1930s preceding the 1940s.

ONLY "LAST RESORT"

Mr. Bracken said state socialism appeared to him as the last resort of a bewildered and impoverished people who are prepared to sacrifice their political liberties and their freedom of opportunity to buy security on a low level of subsistence.

"Nevertheless the state has an important part to play in underwriting the property of the community and keeping the economy on an even keel," he said.

"It must restrain the excesses of those who control our production facilities and prevent them from flooding the market with unwanted goods or from restricting production to maintain prices at artificial levels."

Above all, the government must give leadership to the nation. It must bring employer and labor together with agriculture and finance so there will be planning and direction of joint efforts.

PREDICTS ELECTION

Mr. Bracken said a general election would come within "a matter of months" and Canadians would choose between the widely differing systems of government as represented by the Progressive Conservative, Liberal and C.C.F. parties.

"I tell you now that the progressive Conservative party intends to have no master except the ordinary man—a term which includes as well as non-exemption—farmers, wage earners, business men, manufacturers, professional men, housewives and clerks," he said.

More than a thousand false fire alarms are sounded in New York City annually.

"But you told me to be prepared for transfer to the engineers!"

By every conceivable instrument for invading the mind. We have outlined the possible function in this respect of the church, the motion picture, the theatre, the radio, the press, and the labor union.

There will be educational service instead of military service, and every German will be under compulsion to become prepared for his peaceful duty as once he was for his martial one.

Such, that the extensive educational program will have for one of its main objects training in democratic self-rule. If and when the German people are, in the impartial judgment of the International University, prepared for their proper place in the society of nations, they will be welcomed to their new obligation. No more will they be deemed a menace. Their redemption will come through the mind. For only when the mind is free and independent can the normal will the physical safeguards against them become unnecessary.

STUPENDOUS TASK

Any architect of peace should be awed by the stupendous nature of his task. Wisdom is given to none of us to rebuild the world. No great blueprint can possibly be given without grievous mistakes. The therefore flows, not from any arbitrary springs of modesty, but from a genuine sense of inadequacy to solve by formula the most troublesome threat to man's existence. But humility can have two effects. It can induce passivity, which is cowardice, or it can inspire courage to propose, devoid of messianic conviction.

One peers anxiously upward for the next ring in man's ascent and the lightness with which the ring is grasped does not really indicate full confidence that it will support the weight. Vehemence in the course of exposition or persuasion often hides uncertainty. We assure ourselves, by insisting to others, but we may feel rewarded from the much that is offered, something is of value.

With Germany is an effort to meet this task to preserve man's normal life from the violence of a chronic assault; and after due punishment of the prehistoric measures have conditioned the offender, to accept him into the family of nations.

Belief in the forces of destiny has been man's most costly superstition. Throughout the centuries it has stimulated aberrations which have wrought havoc with mankind. Every kind of savagery has been committed in its name. The tyrant and war maker imagines himself merely the plant agent of "the wave of the future" and his will thus derives sanction from an inconceivable source.

MOST TRAGIC FACT

This substitution of "mission" for morals, has been the most tragic fact in man's decline. It is the negation of all ethics, and stunts the idealism of religion. It is no accident that Germany and Japan prattle continuously about their destiny, their fate. They have substituted an image which they have created, for the image of God. Their obsession is real to them; from its hollow depths spring fanatical, which is no less dangerous than the fanatical of the church, the motion picture, the theatre, the radio, the press, and the labor union.

We are not just, swept helplessly down the stream of life by turbulent waves. The master of our lives is the real author of our lives. There is destiny only in the sense that we are makers of it, and can shape it. We cannot escape our destiny by blaming the forces beyond us. There is no escape from responsibility for what we do. The strength to face this is the supreme test of our adequacy.

So in the course of events the critical time comes when man must leave the helm and stop pretending that the aimlessness of the ship is the design of the waves. If we must steady ourselves with fantasies, let them be healthy ones. Let us imagine that the young men seen of us know, who cut short their precious lives to that we might plan, however near us now to play for the full term of our lives.

Let us remember that the next generation, and the next, and next is in our care. In a certain sense we have become the custodians of the future. The conclusions of our time have made us so.

A cartographer can record the broad expanse of the world upon a single map, giving us a perspective of the peaks and valleys of the terrain. If there were a similar map of the human mind, it would show the ages of time to a single surface, a few days would stand mountain high in the story of emancipation.

Such a day was June 22, 1941, when William A. D. Stephens and his associates met on the triangular plain of Hungary, in a quiet corner of the 160 acres of pasture land, and enacted the written promise from King John that "no freeman shall be seized, imprisoned, except by the legal judgment of his peers, or by the law of the land." This was the day of the Magna Carta, which in Blackstone's words was the "gradual mutation and final establishment of the Charter of Liberties."

FINAL DRAFT

Such a day was September 12, 1947, when at a closed session in Independence Hall, Governor Morris reported on behalf of a committee on "Style and Arrangement" the final draft of the Constitution of the United States.

Such a day is upon us now. All mankind will have cause for many centuries to look upon it and judge whether we mixed or met its historic challenge.

We must not fail.

Mr. Bracken said much of the money which found its way to the people originated as loans made by the government to the banks, and some of credit varied a great deal, not only as a result of the fluctuations of business, but also variations in the stock markets.

He said that the government had contracted and expanded the operations of the bank and the quoted prices of the securities this condition made the need of credit control "obvious," he said.

The ideal should be to preserve the widest freedom of opportunity for the individual to choose his own line of endeavor.

He said that a new and dynamic force must be introduced into the national development to chronicle and correlate the efforts of its individual citizens. We know in the disorder which we are now in the 1930s preceding the 1940s.

ONLY "LAST RESORT"

Mr. Bracken said state socialism appeared to him as the last resort of a bewildered and impoverished people who are prepared to sacrifice their political liberties and their freedom of opportunity to buy security on a low level of subsistence.

"Nevertheless the state has an important part to play in underwriting the property of the community and keeping the economy on an even keel," he said.

"It must restrain the excesses of those who control our production facilities and prevent them from flooding the market with unwanted goods or from restricting production to maintain prices at artificial levels."

Above all, the government must give leadership to the nation. It must bring employer and labor together with agriculture and finance so there will be planning and direction of joint efforts.

PREDICTS ELECTION

Mr. Bracken said a general election would come within "a matter of months" and Canadians would choose between the widely differing systems of government as represented by the Progressive Conservative, Liberal and C.C.F. parties.

"I tell you now that the progressive Conservative party intends to have no master except the ordinary man—a term which includes as well as non-exemption—farmers, wage earners, business men, manufacturers, professional men, housewives and clerks," he said.

More than a thousand false fire alarms are sounded in New York City annually.

Airport Worker Dies as Result of Chest Injuries

Albert Leonard Oborg, 27-year-old employee of the Dufferin-Paving Company, at Nansen Airport, crushed about the chest when squeezed between a mechanical bucket and the end of a gravel car, about 10 a.m. Tuesday, while being rushed to the U.S. Army base hospital, it was announced Wednesday by R.C.M.P.

A second man, George Stretton, with whom Oborg had been working in the car, escaped with only a sprained shoulder in the same accident.

According to police, who investigated, the two men were working in the railway gravel car, unloading gravel. They were shovelling loose gravel into a pile, so that the clam shovel could pick it up, when Oborg was crushed.

The mechanical shovel had just begun to move, and the men were pinned at the end of it, by the half-filled bucket.

Both men were placed in an U.S. first-aid ambulance and rushed to hospital, but Oborg was dead before arrival.

R.C.M.P. investigated, together with Dr. E. A. Brailwater, chief provincial coroner. Death was found to be accidental and no inquest will be held. The body was released and taken to the Andrews and McLaughlin funeral home.

Oborg, a single man, formerly lived at Wilkie, Sask., where his mother still resides.

Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross Going To Ottawa for Discussion With Dominion Officials

Construction of Alberta's half-million-dollar tuberculosis sanatorium, to be built on the campus of the University of Alberta, will be discussed in Ottawa next week, when Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, takes the matter under review with Dominion priority officials.

The province applied for priority to build the 200-bed sanatorium last year, but was refused. Recently, however, it has been indicated the necessary materials are now more plentiful, and application for building and equipment priorities has been renewed.

"Everything we have heard so far about the new application is favorable," Dr. Cross said Wednesday.

It has been announced that funds to build the hospital will be provided by the Dominion government. Plans to build the hospital were first announced by the late Premier William Abernethy.

Dr. Cross and Dr. Malcolm R. Bow, deputy minister of health, plan to leave Saturday for the east, where they will attend meetings of the Health League in Ottawa on May 8 and 9.

On the next three days, May 10, 11 and 12, the Health League will discuss the health of the province with Dominion officials. The Health League is a national organization of health officials in connection with the new Dominion health program.

It is expected that this conference will discuss the system of contributions under the new health program. The Health League is a national organization of health officials in connection with the new Dominion health program.

Seeking Farmers For Packing Jobs
 Appeal to farmers who can spare a week or two from their spring work, to take jobs in packing plants, was made in Edmonton Wednesday by Fred J. W. Manning, regional superintendent, National Selective Service, who is here conferring with officials.

The labor situation is very "tight" in Alberta now, Mr. White said, and there is no pool of labor to draw from to ease the serious shortage of help in packing plants.

Consignment of help in packing plants has grown steadily worse as agricultural workers left the plants to return to the farms. One of the packing operations is complete it is felt many farmers will be in a position to take work in the plant for a week or two.

A few hundred men put to work for a couple of weeks would clean up the work to be done. In an area the size of this we should be able to get them," Mr. White said.

When questioned about the prospects of general labor, Mr. White stated that once the work of marketing the country's hogs has been accomplished no other immediate labor problem is anticipated.

Captain Walter Hunter, M.M., who arrived back in Edmonton Monday week, told the Canadians that the troops in the British Empire, or at least in the British Isles today.

"The general opinion over there," Captain Hunter said, "is that the Canadians are the best and the smartest troops in the British Empire, or at least in the British Isles today."

A veteran of the last war, in which he served with the 4th Battalion, Captain Hunter was instrumental in the formation of the Canadian Corps' band, now on loan to the Air Corps.

Members of the band attended the meeting and contributed several songs to the program.

NORALE MARVELOUS
 Speaking of the British civilians the guest speaker said, "The morale of the people in Britain is simply marvelous. They are going through their cheerfully and are exceptionally healthy. This came as quite a surprise to us after all we have heard of the terrible conditions that have taken, and of the food shortages. Everybody over there is making a contribution towards the winning of the war."

Norman Kirkham of the Calgary Tank Regiment, C.A.C., contributed to the gathering on behalf of the Canadian Corps' band.

In the last World War he saw action at Gallipoli, in Syria and in the Middle East. He took part in the Dieppe raid, and the landings on Sicily and Italy.

He gave a detailed account of the Dieppe raid and the lessons learned there, and of the fighting in Italy.

"There is no complacency or optimism in our fighting today," he said, "and this is no time for it at home."

The 4th Battalion band, under the direction of Graydon Tipp, contributed several songs to the program which was closed with the singing of the national anthem, "God Save the King."

More than 300 members of the band and their families were present at the meeting, which was presided at by S. C. K. Kerr, C.C., president.

The Inquiring Reporter
 VACATION season is near again. What do you plan to do on your holidays?

THE ANSWERS
ELLEN WALLACE, student: I want to go to work in a store as soon as school is out, about the middle of June. I have been in the store since I was 14 years old. I will only work for two months. But in the summer I hope to save enough money to go to college. I will be 17 years old by the time I go to college. I will work two weeks at Waterloo Park.

ROBERT MINTON, student: I'll be doing what I was doing last year, working on a farm. Four of us are going to the farm. We will be there for the whole holiday time on farms near Camrose. We were pretty busy last year. We will be there for the whole holiday time on farms near Camrose. We were pretty busy last year. We will be there for the whole holiday time on farms near Camrose.

H. R. MORRISON, student: We always go to Jasper for our holiday, and I don't think we will change plans this year. Trail riding is the way we spend the vacation, and we will have most of the park to explore, why go anywhere else? It's impossible to go much farther, even if we wanted to, because of gas rationing. We have to lay the car for a month or so to save the gas to get out to Jasper.
